INDIAN LIBERAL GROUP

CONSTITUTION

1. Name

The Indian Liberal Group (hereinafter referred to as the ILG) founded in 1964 gives itself this Constitution as drafted by the Drafting Group (list attached Annexure A) on March 04, 2000. The members of the ILG Executive Committee (list attached Annexure B) shall be called the Founding Members of the ILG.

2. Objectives

The purpose of the ILG is to foster the values of freedom, responsibility, tolerance, social justice and 'equality of opportunity based on the liberal belief that

- liberty with individual responsibility are the foundations of civilised society.
- the State is the instrument of the citizens it serves.
- any action of the State must respect the principles of democratic accountability and the rule of law.

The primary objective of the ILG is to defend the fundamental liberal belief of

- the right of individuals to personal liberty, liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship;
- the right of association;
- the right to private property;
- free choice of occupation;
- the right to information so as to enable the exercise of one's rights meaningfully.

While tolerance is integral to liberalism, the ILG will not tolerate intolerance.

The ILG believes that the business of government is governance, not business.

The ILG is opposed to any kind of monopoly.

The ILG believes that technology is needed to promote human development and draws attention to the fact that the growth of liberalism has been contemporaneous with the development of science and technology.

The ILG affirms that active and participatory citizenship at all levels is essential for sustaining a liberal and democratic society.
